

IN THE ABSTRACT:

Please replace the abstract of the invention with the following:

ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to an electrooptical module that efficiently employs optical bandwidth. The invention includes two or electrooptical components that are in an optical free-beam connection with an optical waveguide using at least one respective lens.